

The President's Message

Congratulations to Glynis and the NSW Rose Society for the wonderful hospitality and a very successful 37th AGM, National Rose Show and conference.

One of the great benefits of being a rose lover is that as a member of a society you make many friends including many from interstate and worldwide. Exchanging other interests in common is making our National Rose Society stronger and more successful with increasing membership nationally.

I would like to invite everyone to Brisbane from 1st - 5th October 2010 when the 38th AGM of the National Rose Society of Australia Inc and show/conference will be held. Please contact Sue Stallwood on (07) 5546 3975 for details.

We are planning to have a spectacular show of roses. We will have the honour of special guest World Federation of Rose Societies President, Sheenagh Harris.

On the bus trip on Monday 4th November you will see some of Queensland's most beautiful rose gardens and some other special events; this day is not to be missed.

Looking forward to meeting up with all our friends in Brisbane at the Grand Chancellor Hotel.

Happy Rose Growing

Regards

Tony Stallwood
